ACHESON SEES NO WAR RISK IN GREEK AID

House More Danger Lies in Consequences of Middle East Collapse.

By The Associated Press

HINGTON, March 20 — etary of State Acheson conviction today that help for Greece and o block the spread of sm will not 'lead to question was raised by nsfield (D-Mont) as the reign affairs committee ed Acheson on Presi- man's broad program to money, material and mili- ons to the two Mediter- countries

o hesitated for a mo- nd then solemnly declared as going to say—no possi- at it would lead to war." seen again then added: on't think it could lead to By strengthening the forces emocracy and freedom, you a great deal to eliminate the on between great powers"

Collapse Might Be Serious

On the other hand, he said, collapse of Greece and Turkey might set off a chain reaction" among other countries — both the east and to the west—"struggling under similar pressure"

He was asked bluntly by Rep Smith (R-Wis) whether congress could assume the United States would pursue the same policy in other countries

I don't think it is ever for- to assume anything" Ache- son replied 'There are other areas in which we may not be able to give help There are countries in which we may give aid in a dif- ferent way."

He insisted that help for Greece and Turkey to resist Communist aggression can not wait for United Nations action but assured the lawmakers:

"We are giving serious consid- eration and study to ways in which the United Nations may take hold of this problem after the present emergency is passed."

Outlines Truman Position

Acheson outlined the administration's position as the house group began hearings on President Truman's request for authority to send $400,000,000 and limited military aid to Greece and Turkey.

He did not mention Russia by name but commented that if the Greek-Turkish problem was put up to the United Nations it might run into a veto

Acheson ran into a barrage of questions when he completed reading a prepared statement to the committee

Rep Vorys (R-Ohio) asked for a breakdown on how the $400,000,000 proposed for Greece and Turkey would be spent

Acheson said $275,000,000 to $300,000,000 would be for Greek needs and $100,000,000 to $125,000,000 for the Turks.

Would they be loans or grants?" Vorys pursued.

Should Be Left To Truman

That matter, I think, should be left in the hands of the President Acheson replied "My strong recommendation to the President would be that all these funds used for non-wealth producing purposes and military purposes should not be loans."

Rep Mundt (R-SD) demanded to know whether there were any agreements made at Yalta or Potsdam that still remain secret.

(The Yalta conference brought together the late President Roosevelt Premier Stalin and Prime Minister Churchill. At Potsdam the Big Three" were President Truman, Stalin and Prime Minister Atlee)

The undersecretary responded that so far as he knows they have not been made public but promised to look into that point further and report to the committee.

There is no possibility of putting the responsibility for extending the aid which Greece has asked from the United States on any other nation or upon the United Nations," Acheson told the committee

Even if the project were not held up by the objections of certain members of the United Nations, he said, "much time would have been lost and time is of the essence"

Declares Speed Essential

The emphasis on that point obviously was intended to offset the argument by some congressmen that the international organization, not the United States alone, should deal with the problem.

The undersecretary declared speed is essential.

Aid to aid Greece would bring its quick collapse, he declared adding that "should the independence and

TALMADGE LEAVES CAPITOL AFTER COURT RULING. Herman Talmadge, claimant to governorship of Georgia, leaves his office in Atlanta, Ga, after the supreme court ruled that Lt.-Gov. M. E. Thompson is the governor. (Associated Press Wirephoto)

Talmadge No Spokesman For Democrats, Says New Governor

By The Associated Press

ATLANTA, Ga, March 20—Gov Melvin E. Thompson declared today that Herman Talmadge and his political associates no longer had the right to speak for the Democratic party, and branded the Talmadge-sponsored "white supremacy' legislation as an invitation to fraud and stolen elections

In a speech prepared for a joint session of the Georgia legislature, just 24 hours after the state supreme court had rejected Talmadge's claim to the governorship, Thompson said

"Those who sought to seize the state of Georgia for their selfish ends and who undertook to prostitute the Democratic platform to extend their own reign, now have no right to speak for the Democratic party.

"Not People's Program"

"Their program is not the people's program. It is not the Democratic program, it is not my program No selfish group can exploit Georgia, and no selfish group will ever control Georgia so long as elections are free"

Thompson, who must pass on 151 bills apparently signed illegally by Talmadge, indicated he might veto Talmadge's number-one measure the so-called "white primary" bill.

He declared, however, he favored restoration of the Democratic white primary, and asked enactment of legislation which would set rigid education requirements for voting and provide separate voting booths for white persons and Negroes

Thompson turned stinging rebuke on Talmadge for his attempt to bar Negroes from the polls by removing primaries from state control and making them subject only to party rules which could exclude any voter, white or Negro, if not acceptable to the party.

Thompson continued: "I am for a white primary, but I am not for any measure or legislation that would strike out every primary election law from the statutes of our state and allow fraud and stolen elections to run rampant in Georgia"

Endorsing bills introduced this week by Thompson leaders in the senate, Thompson asserted "If you earnestly want a white primary law, and just that it is my hope that you will speedily pass these bills before the end of this session"

Thompson urged the legislature to carry out Talmadge's program of expanded state services, including continuation of a 50 per cent increase in teacher salaries. He warned, however, that additional revenue was needed, and by implication supported the only pending revenue measure—a 3 per cent retail sales tax

OHIO SCHOOL STRIKE WINDS UP IN COURT

By The Associated Press

CINCINNATI, O, March 20—Action in the strike of some 500 North College Hill pupils over the board of education's failure to renew the school superintendent's contract shifts today to common pleas court.

Judge Thomas H Morrow said he would hear a suit, filed more than a week ago by a group of North College Hill residents, asking that the education board be restrained from declaring the office of Superintendent Dr William A. Cook open for candidates.

The board's action at a February meeting to declare the position open was followed by a strike of more than 500 junior and senior high school pupils yesterday when the educators voted down a motion, 3 to 2, that the superintendent's contract be renewed. The motion was offered by Walter Hughes, minority board member.

Arguments over issues of the case were followed last night by a brief demonstration by striking pupils in the vicinity of the school. Earlier, they had paraded back and forth in front of the school, bearing placards and banners.

Hughes told newsmen the "Dr. Cook situation" developed from a old dispute on education matters between Catholics and Protestants in the community, which he did not describe further.

Three More Closed; Effort To Reopen Two Fails.

A total of six Marion county schools have been closed for the remainder of the week, three of which were dismissed late yesterday, as the wave of influenza continues to spread throughout the city, county and state.

Morral, Kirkpatrick and Meeker were shut down this morning with Kirkpatrick reporting 30 per cent absent, and Meeker, 24 per cent. A report of the absence at Morral was not learned by the county school office.

Along with these six county schools, the Marion city schools and St. Mary Parochial school are closed, and all are scheduled to reopen Monday.

Radnor school in Delaware county which was closed Monday and Tuesday, attempted to have classes Wednesday, but was dismissed again in the afternoon when the percentage in absence increased. About 40 per cent of the total enrollment was reported absent by the school officials

The Galion schools were also closed yesterday for the remainder of the week.

Young, under $2,000 bond, allegedly aided the flight of 37-year-old Thomas Gibbs of Cincinnati.

France Asks German Coal

Can't Agree to Unity for Reich Unless Demands Are Met.

By The Associated Press

MOSCOW, March 20—France notified the council of foreign ministers tonight that she could not agree to economic reconstitution of Germany unless other powers agreed to her demands for guarantees of German coal.

Foreign Minister Georges Bidault of France, answering the rejection of his request for coal guarantees by British Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin last night, said:

"I am directed by my government to state that we cannot be parties to agreement on other problems raised—economic unity, level of industry and reparations—without a previous settlement of the scheme for export of coal in a sense which is in conformity with our request

'No different attitude could be adopted by any French government"

Russia agreed yesterday to a larger share of German coal for France

Deputies of the four-power foreign ministers were reported today to have agreed that at some future points, all Allied belligerents and all former enemy states which turned against and fought Germany should have a chance to express their views on the German treaty.

This is one of the few major points agreed upon in the deputies' study of the German question, according to official informants who have followed the debates in London and Moscow.

The agreement was described as coming at the last minute, before the deputies were to submit their recommendations and their various open disputes to the foreign ministers themselves

Authoritative sources said today that Moscow's official reaction to President Truman's Greek-Turkish proposals seemed to be trending toward the view that the United States is developing an out-and-out anti-Soviet policy.

First inklings of the official Russian line were reaching American ears informally today and roused immediate speculation as to what effect, if any, such a view would have on the prospects for reaching agreement in the current negotiations on the future of Germany

Soviet Foreign Minister V. M Molotov and U S Secretary of State George C Marshall agreed at last night's session of the council of foreign ministers that it was entirely possible for the Big Four to compromise their differences and reach an accord on critical German economic problems

Molotov appeared to be in a particularly conciliatory mood, but aside from the agreement that differences could be reconciled there was scant progress toward writing a German peace treaty.

While the Russians have done nothing in council sessions thus far to indicate their reactions to the American President's recommendation for financial aid to Greece and Turkey, informal contacts have brought out their view that the move was unfriendly to Russia and that they distinctly don't like it

Red Cross Campaign $1,838 Short of Goal

Marion County quota	$27,060 00
Reported last night	$ 5,676.02
Previously reported	$19,545.12
Total to date	$25,221.14
To be raised	$ 1,838.86

* * *

Less than $2,000—$1,838 86 to be exact—is needed to put Marion county on the line in reaching its quota of $27,060 in the 1947 Red Cross financial campaign to raise needed funds to carry on the work of the national organization, it was revealed at last night's meeting of workers

Clarence Shockney, campaign chairman, expressed the opinion that the contributions are to be had for the asking and his workers agreed, and it was with this thought in mind that the canvassers set out today to 'clean up" by Saturday

Hampered by Illness

We realize, Mr Shockney said, that the prevalence of colds and flu have cut down the man power and working hours, but the goal is in sight, and the quota will be reached He asked especially that the workers complete their work by Saturday, using the remaining two days to screen their territory for "call backs" and contacting persons not available when first contacted While there still remains a week in the national campaign, we want to end ours by the end of this week, he said today.

Any one who has been missed by the workers is asked to contact the chapter office 2431 or campaign headquarters 2884, or call with their contributions If not able to bring them in someone will call, Mr Shockney states

Most of last night's gain of more than $5,000 came from the residential section where the work was done by the women, business houses and from the communities and rural sections. There still are some workers to be heard from in the county, the report shows

In the residential section the goal was $5,585 and the workers turned in $8,756. To date contributions in the amount of $4,502 80 have been received from the villages and rural communities, $2,827 84 from the advance gifts group, $4,920 from industry and $4,214 50 from business.

No further report meeting was scheduled

Spring Arrives Friday Morning

Winter was waning fast today, with only a few hours until the spring solstice Friday at 6 13 a m.

And the weather was nicely balanced between a winter and springlike mood, with the mercury hovering a few degrees above the freezing mark at noon today, but with occasional snow indicated by the weatherman.

A year ago today it seemed more like summer, a high temperature of 63 being recorded.

CONCERT PROGRAM CHOSEN FOR SEASON

Adler, Draper and Dorothy Kirsten Included.

A series of programs which spell tops in the field of entertainment has been selected by the Marion Community Concert association for the 1947-48 season.

Varied enough to suit the musical and entertainment wishes of all the committee has selected the team of Paul Draper and Larry Adler in a joint recital, Dorothy Kirsten, soprano and Eugene Conley, tenor, in a joint appearance and the St. Louis Sinfonietta directed by Paul Schreiber.

Adler, who plays the harmonica, and Draper, a dancer, are rated as one of the most popular teams in their profession. Dorothy Kirsten, American born star of the Metropolitan, San Francisco and Mexican opera companies also is a favorite while the sinfonietta is a "little symphony" of 20 artist-musicians, founded and conducted by Mr. Schreiber. Their extensive tours began in 1937, bringing audiences unusual and interesting presentations of modern composers as well as the old masters.

The programs will again be presented at the Palace theater and dates will be announced later, Mrs. Karl W. Schell, president of the association announces. Headquarters for the issuance of membership cards will be established soon, the officers announce.

Atomic-Powered Cities Within 10 Years Seen

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, March 20—Prof Milton Burton of Notre Dame university, one of the chemists who participated in the Manhattan (atom bomb) project, predicts a whole city may operate on atomic energy in five to 10 years.

Speaking before the Cleveland section of the American Chemical society last night, he said

"It is reasonable to expect a federally subsidized experiment in which a whole city may operate on atomic energy.

"Such a municipal atomic energy plant may be used as the principal unit in the city's sanitation system, purification of its water supply, sterilization of its waste, and production of new products at the same time it generates electric power."

Ohio Age Pensioner, 74 Dies of Blow to Head

By The Associated Press

GREENFIELD, O., March 20—A 74-year-old age pensioner died today in Greenfield Municipal hospital from what the Highland county coroner said was a blow which crushed the left side of his skull and jaw.

Leroy Woodland, the battered pensioner, was found at his home in nearby Higginsville.

No arrest has been made.

Highland county officials and city police said the state bureau of investigation at London prison farm has been asked to assist the investigation.

POLICE SGT. REPORTS BRIBE

Tells Liquor Inquiry He Was Offered $10,000 by "Slots" Interests.

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., March 20—A Cincinnati police sergeant told the state senate liquor investigating committee today he had received a $10,000 slot machine bribe offer from an unidentified man.

The offer came, testified Sgt. Russell Jones, head of the Cincinnati police vice squad, shortly after he had talked to former State Liquor Director Robert M. Sohngen about a job as agent-in-charge of the state liquor department's Cincinnati district

Jones said at his conference with Sohngen in April, 1944, the liquor director told him he was leaving for Washington at that time and wanted to see him again in two weeks

During that interval, Jones said he received a telephone call at his Cincinnati home from a man who asked to meet the police officer "on Beekman street near Hoppell street"

The officer said because he frequently received calls of that nature he met the man who identified himself as a representative of a slot machine syndicate, and "asked if I was going to take the liquor job."

Knows About Interview

"I told him that I had talked to Sohngen about it and he replied 'Yes, I know'," Jones said

Jones added that "he said 'slot machine people went to Washington with Sohngen'!"

The Cincinnati police officer quoted the unidentified man as saying: "You could make $10,000 a year and more to give people two hours notice when making inspections"

Then the witness said "I told him to take his proposition and go to hell."

Jones told the committee he understood the slot machines in question were not in Hamilton county, but in "two counties to the north."

Another Man Gets Job

Jones, who was the first witness called as the committee resumed its hearings, said two or three weeks later another man was appointed to the post.

On returning to Columbus for the April 19 appointment with Sohngen, the officer said Liquor Enforcement Chief Frank Kleinfelder told him Sohngen said the interview was unnecessary because he had talked with him before.

Jones added that Kleinfelder

HERBERT SCHOOL PAY PLAN CHANGES ASKED

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., March 20 — Gov. Thomas J. Herbert's plan to give teachers and other school employes an extra $6,000,000 in bonuses ran into a series of proposed revisions at its first hearing by the senate finance committee.

Distributions on a 21 per cent basis, said Walton Bliss of the Ohio Education Association at yesterday's hearing, would exceed the $6,000,000 by about $10,000.

Bliss also suggested a requirement for 75 per cent of bonus allotments to go to teachers and the balance to other school employes. Committee members objected vigorously and the matter was continued without action to next Wednesday's hearing.

Engaged Pair Held In Girl's Parents' Deaths

By The Associated Press

SANTA ANA, Calif., March 20—Two college students, engaged to be married next month, were in Orange county jail today awaiting outcome of police investigation into the explosion deaths late Saturday night of the girl's wealthy parents aboard their 47-foot yacht in Newport harbor.

Neulah Louise Overell, 17, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter E. Overell, and George Hector Gellum, 21, were arrested yesterday after Sheriff James Musick and Newport Beach Police Chief R. R. Hodgkinson said 30 sticks of dynamite and a wired clock were discovered in the wrecked hulk. The yacht sank following the explosion, first attributed to gasoline, and investigators went aboard after it was raised the next day.

STUDY GROUPS FIX SUM, TIME

Legislative Committees Concur; Method of Financing To Be Arranged.

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., March 20—Senate and house military affairs sub-committees were agreed today on cash payment of bonuses to Ohio War II veterans of $10 for each month of service between Pearl Harbor and V-J day

The agreement scaled down maximum payments to about $450. Previous proposals had called for top bonuses of $500 at the rate of $10 for each month or domestic service and $15 monthly for foreign duty.

The proposed state constitutional amendment to be submitted to voters for final approval at the next general election would provide.

(1) That $10 monthly be paid for service between Dec 7, 1941, and Sept. 2, 1945, with a $50 minimum.

(2) That bonuses be restricted to those with the rank of captain or below in the army, or corresponding rank in other service branches.

(3) That $300 be paid to immediate survivors of service dead, such as widow, children or parents.

(4) That recipients must have resided in Ohio at least one year prior to service.

Financing To Be Decided

Still to be decided was the matter of financing the bonuses which it was estimated would total some $100,000,000 Committee members said they probably would have this legislation ready next Wednesday.

Both houses of the legislature called for a vote on a handful of bills before adjourning today for the weekend.

The senate passed and sent to the house a bill to create an Anthony Wayne parkway board to unify parks in 20 western counties traveled by General Wayne. The vote was 28 to 1.

Representatives voted unanimously for a measure appropriating some $4,300,000 for immediate capital improvements at welfare institutions and six-state-supported universities. More than $3,300,000 of the total was for the welfare projects.

Pass School Bus Bill

The house also passed and sent to the senate a bill to remove the troublesome ban against operation of school buses by township trustees and other public officials under contract with boards of education. The vote was 116 to 3.

The senate tax committee recommended passage of a house-approved bill to extend for two years the .65 per cent utility excise tax, expiring April 30, and permit its use for welfare purposes after poor relief costs are paid

The senate judiciary committee reported out a measure to require senate concurrence in appointment of racing commission members and another to increase the Ohio judicial council from 14 to 15 members by adding a juvenile judge. A third measure would allow Stark county commissioners to transfer institutional property to cities without a vote of occupants.

Recommends Hunting Law

The senate conservation committee recommended passage of a proposal to allow hunting on land with the owner's consent but without having it in writing. Another sets a $5 fee for a special deer hunting license although the state now has no open season on deer.

Measures introduced in the senate would:

Place county welfare departments under direction of county commissioners. By Sen. Margaret A. Mahoney (D-Cuyahoga).

Enlarge the state civil service commission from two to three members appointed by the governor with consent of the senate for six-year terms and create the position of personnel administrator to carry out its policies.

Permit substitute teachers to count time in the armed forces toward seniority.

Nurse's Statements About Vet Home Denied

SANDUSKY, O., March 20—A nurse's allegations that veterans were robbed of pension checks and made to live in a "fire trap overrun with vermin" at the Ohio Soldiers and Sailors Home here were termed unfounded and untrue by Commandant James DuLong today.

Ohioan Awarded $18,000 For D., T. and I. Accident

By The Associated Press

TOLEDO, O., March 20—A federal court jury awarded an $18,000 judgment to Orval L. Patch, Springfield, O., yesterday for the loss of an arm while working for the Detroit, Toledo and Ironton railroad.

Injured in November, 1945 Patch asked $60,000 judgment contending the railroad was negligent in permitting a car to be switched down a track beside one on which he was inspecting.

1000 Ineligible For May Voting

Names Removed for Failure To Cast Ballots in Two Elections.

An estimated 1,000 persons in Marion will not be eligible to vote in the May 6 primary elections office before April 7.

Mrs. Nora Fetter, deputy clerk at the elections board office, said today registrations and transfers for the May primaries were coming in slowly. Only about 155 persons have registered and transferred during the last two weeks, she stated, and she estimated that nearly 1,000 Marion residents still must register or transfer to be eligible to vote in the May primaries.

Marion's eligible voter list now stands at slightly over 14,190. The board of elections recently removed from the eligibility list the names of approximately 3,100 persons, including many who have moved from the city or who have failed to vote in the last two years.

Registrations are required for those persons who have moved into the city, those who have not voted in any election within the last two years, and those who will be 21 years old before the November election.

Absentee primary ballots for servicemen are now available at the board of elections office, although no applications have yet been received from servicemen, Mrs. Fetter said. Beginning April 7, civilians who will be more than 50 miles from their voting precinct on election day, may cast primary absentee ballots.

Lady Burglar Pens Her Way Into Jail

By The Associated Press

PITTSBURGH, March 20—Charlotte Glikis liked to record her evening's adventures in a diary, but the writings only helped land her and her husband in jail on burglary charges.

Police Inspector John Whalen said Jerry Glikis and wife Charlotte were caught prowling in a west end home. They said they had called to collect bundles for Greek relief and found nobody home.

The story might have worked, Whalen reported, if police had not found the diary. It listed scores of visits under a general heading "Jerry and I were out tonight."

Quoted Whalen from the diary: "Feb. 3—Got the baby a blue coat with leggings and Jerry two nice coats and myself two grand ones. Also a snack pack.

"Feb. 22—Best ever. $25 cash. Shoulder strap pocketbook. $5 pennies, an expensive dark grey fur coat for me.

"March 1—Came home in a taxi. A waffle iron and electric mixer. Also a cute navy coat I can get cleaned. Wear it on the baby on Easter.

Whalen said Mrs. Glikis took one look at the diary, then signed a statement admitting the robberies.

Adventists Seek To Expand Medical Work

Enlargement of medical work in north Brazil and construction of a clinic in the city of Belem is the purpose of a special Sabbath school program to be given at the Seventh-day Adventist church Saturday, March 22.

According to Mrs. L. B. Hill, superintendent, Seventh-day Adventist medical-evangelistic work in this area has been given a strong impetus by Pastor L. B. Halliwell and his wife, who during the past 15 years have traversed over 150,000 miles of the Amazon and its vast network of tributaries to bring health and healing to the sick and underprivileged.

Adventist church leaders anticipate that the "overflow" offering taken this week in all of the Sabbath schools will provide $40,000 for the medical ministry in north Brazil. They report that in the city of Belem land has been secured for a clinic and funds are on hand with which to begin construction, but there is not enough to complete it.

THURSDAY, MARCH 20, 1947

$3 Wheat

WHEN the price of wheat rose to $1 in the late 1930's, it was hailed as a sign of returning normalcy. Economists have a less pleasant name for the impetus which now has sent it above $3 for the second time in the 99-year history of the Chicago Board of Trade.

American wheat prices have covered a wide range. During World War I the price rose to $3.01 and at the height of the post-war inflation in 1920 it was $2.93. Then came the bust. The price fell 50 per cent in a year and in April, 1921, was down to $1.33. With the depression, the price dipped in 1932 to 42 cents at the elevator, which meant about 30 cents on the farm. Gradually it climbed to around 80 cents. At the time of the attack on Pearl Harbor it was $1.20 and it has gradually risen from there.

American wheat is in greater demand than ever before because Canada and Russia, the two greatest producers before the war, have slipped far down the list, leaving the United States in first place. Needs formerly met by Canada and Russia are now met by American granaries and, despite the fact that the 1946 crop was an all-time high, the estimated carry-over as of July 1 this year will be less than half the 1932-41 average.

There is no precipitous drop in wheat prices in sight to match that of 1921. The world is too short of wheat and will be for years to come.

But Government Is Partisan

SENATOR VANDENBERG is fighting the good fight for bipartisan backing of American foreign policy. His outburst against a proposal by the chairman of the Democratic national committee to the chairman of the Republican committee for endorsing President Truman's position on Greece and Turkey is undoubtedly sincere. So is the outburst of Democratic Senator Connally against the same proposal. Both men say that support must come from the minds and hearts of congressmen, not from party headquarters. Otherwise, their dream of bipartisan support for American foreign policy would be ended.

The truth is that the dream is at best only that—a dream. The government of the United States is not bipartisan. One party runs it, and the other party operates as an opposition. There will be times, such as wars and international negotiations, when the opposition will suspend its obligation to oppose. We have been passing through times like these; the Republicans in large measure suspended their obligation to oppose, and not always with completely happy results.

Foreign policy can no more be dissociated from the other policies of a national administration than the left hand can be dissociated from the right. Democratic administrations have committed the United States to do everything in its power to make the Soviet Union stronger and help Communists in the United States and now are trying to commit the United States to weaken the Soviet Union and purge Communists. Any political party which wants the opposition to forget its partisanship for the sake of unity shouldn't make the mistake of trying to achieve unity on a basis of inconsistency.

The Parents' Responsibility

DR. CLYDE V. HISSONG, state director of education, recommends that parents resort to an application of a rod of suitable length and thickness to the prescribed place for the teen-ager who is getting out of hand in the classroom.

It's a time-tested recipe and the fact that Dr. Hissong has to call attention to it is evidence that it hasn't been used enough in recent years.

The current rash of teacher-student-parent disputes is a sign that discipline in the home has become lax. A boorish child at home is a boorish child in the classroom. Teachers who attempt to give the bad actors a lesson in the elements of good behavior find themselves confronted with tantrum-throwing children and angry parents.

Parents who want their children to grow up to be respected members of the community should remember that the home and not the classroom is where they receive their primary training. Teachers acquaint children with learning in its more formalized aspects and, to a certain extent, mold their characters, but the parents who send a spoiled child to school will get a spoiled child back.

The teacher has enough woes without being confronted with the problem of handling the ill-behaved child. It's the parents' responsibility to see that their children go to school with the understanding that conformance to the rules is expected of them as a matter of course, not as an exceptional feat which entitles them to praise and rewards.

MAYBE EDISON GAVE US TOO MUCH

An old fossil in the office points out that Tom Edison did all those big things at an old rolltop desk, not the recently-exhibited model which includes, television set, bar, electric heater, refrigerator and inter-communication system. Some guys just hate progress.—Kansas City Star.

News Behind the News

By PAUL MALLON

More on Confusing Near East Matter.

WASHINGTON, March 20 — (This is a continuation of the column of yesterday on the confusing background of the Greek-Turkish issue.)

Both Democrats and Republicans in the government and in congress lack clarity also on the military aspects of the proposed Greek-Turkish relief of $400,000,000. The Republicans, for instance, are split. Few are against, but the split has developed between those in favor of following the Truman recommendation.

Foreign Chairmen Vandenberg and Eaton, for instance, want to rush approval without delay although they admit they cannot make the Truman March 31 deadline. Behind their urgings apparently lies the old report that the Communist guerrillas in Greece intend opening a spring campaign, and the British are getting out March 31, so Greece might remain unprotected for a period. On the other side, Senator Taft wants to find out first what it means. He wants to know if it means we are going to finance and take over British empire commitments around the world, whether this will bring us to grips with Russia, and whether war will come from the grips. No attitude for the party as a whole has been proclaimed.

Behind the Taft policy, I suspect, is a desire to see what the Russians do in the spring before we commit ourselves to what we will do.

Greece Is Far Away

This attitude is likely to have wide following in the congress before the fight is over, for this reason: Greece is rather far away. If we are going to fight Communism, or Russia, we have hardly picked the best spot for the fight. You will remember France and Britain guaranteed the independence of Poland and Czechoslovakia in treaties before the last war. They could not defend either commitment. They let Czechoslovakia go to the Nazis and declared war when Poland was invaded, but even so they could do nothing to help Poland directly.

Both Greece and Turkey adjoin Russia (Greece through the Russian satellite Bulgaria.) If Russia wants to capture either, there is really not much we can do about it in a military way. The Russian army is strategically located to capture both.

So if the Truman policy is effected, the most it can mean is to let Russia know that if she invades either state or both, through subterfuge or otherwise, it will mean war with us. Thus we rather leave it in Russia's hands to determine whether or not there shall be a war. She can bring one on, and we cannot stop her.

Now Turkey was not mentioned much in this matter at the outset. Mr. Truman worked her in for the first time when he wrote his message to congress. The Turks have a good army for Turkey, but it is expensive. The question is whether we wish to commit ourselves to financing it from now on. We should have much surplus war material in Europe, particularly Germany, which would be of help to both Greece and Turkey. No one here seems to know or be inclined to say how much. There would be no objection to letting those nations have it which might use it in our interests. An American military mission to each country also seems a minimum requirement.

Taft Demands Debate

Congress might be able to pass a resolution or bill authorizing steps along this line without objection. But the question of grave financial commitments which might bleed us white in future months and years, could well await an exploratory debate which Taft demands.

Now Mr. Truman undoubtedly announced his policy for effect on Russia at the opening of the Big Four meeting in Moscow. No one in the know was surprised. He merely exposed a situation everyone knew, and may have been sounding out the American public and congressmen on the question of whether we have not taken enough—and whether we are not likely to lose more if we let things go on the way they have been.

Russian reaction has not shown any relaxation of the obstacles she has placed in the path of peace. She shows no willingness either to back-down, be reasonable or sensible. In fact she has been somewhat more aggressive lately, naively drawing a red herring across these matters by attempting to divert the conference to China at the outset of the Big Four meeting.

These are the real reasons behind the lack of clarity on the subject in high places here—not just those facts cited above but those mentioned in this spot yesterday. (If you did not read them, get a copy of yesterday's newspaper somewhere.)

The British forced all things on us by a government so stupid it cannot get coal out of the ground to warm its people in winter although coal is about the only natural resource it has in abundance. No one here on any side objects to meeting the issue. There is unity among all factions on that. The only difference of opinion exists among those who want to explore proposed steps a little further to see perhaps if we might not want to go a little further, or stronger, or better, and the others who are willing to rush right into it regardless.

Just a Minute

By JACK TARVER

A Disappointing Double-Feature

A Miami night club owner has filed suit for breach of contract against Jane Russell, claiming that, by appearing in public fully clothed, she adversely affected her value as an attraction at his establishment.

He feels, apparently, that if the defendant had to expose herself, at least she could have done it indecently.

As it was, one gathers that, as a nightclub attraction, Jane is pretty much a bust.

Still, the lady was billed as a singer and, from all appearances, must have a better than average voice for it even to reach the microphone.

Miss Russell, for the benefit of Bostonians, is the feminine lead of The Outlaw, a western epic which introduced two new stars to film fans. Hollywood has been making cowboy pictures for many a year but The Outlaw started more young men westward than anything since Greeley.

The picture resulted in Miss Russell getting widespead publicity and a network contract, the latter surprising critics who said her only radio possibilities lay in the field of television.

Her night club debut seems to have turned out badly, but one can hardly blame Jane. Talents like hers can't be hid under a bushel.

How Far Shall We Go?

By RAYMOND MOLEY

DISCUSSION in congress and in the press since President Truman's Greco-Turkish message still leaves several points in the dark.

The first of these is the danger that, in a piecemeal effort to "contain" Communism, we shall multiply the dangers and costs of our new enterprise. The President said, in effect, that we will pour dollars on every spot where there are "armed minorities or outside pressures." To do that generally will either provide a very thin layer of dollars or, in the end, produce a very thin United States.

For threats to the efforts of free people do not spring up like wild flowers. They can be planted and cultivated.

There is probably no great comfort in the Truman speech for the Kremlin leaders. But far-sighted members of the Politburo can anticipate with grim satisfaction a process of bleeding capitalism white by pulling the long strings which move puppets in every country.

We shall have to define and limit our policy of entering any and every region or nation where there is a threat of Communism or we shall be utterly bogged down. For the Kremlin is capable of pulling the trick described by Uncle Remus—the Br'er Rabbit and Tar Baby trick. That trick consists of getting an adversary stuck fast on one "crisis focus" after another, until energy, action and influence are completely worn down.

Means Always Available

Politicians in little and big countries can always find means of getting outside help. They can create crises to order and then call for money to resist danger. To some degree, fragments of Communism in various countries are plain blackmailing institutions. Well financed democracy everywhere is as vain an objective as the suggestion that we provide Hottentots with milk. Those who would accept without question the larger and vague implications of the Truman speech are just as dreamy as the one-worders who would offer full and profitable employment everywhere and always.

If our interest everywhere is to be not only fraternal but philanthropic, we shall end in frustration and failure. But if we are to describe somewhere on the shore where the British tide of power is ebbing a definite line which we propose to hold, we shall at least have some idea of what we must pay and do.

Follow Dual Policy

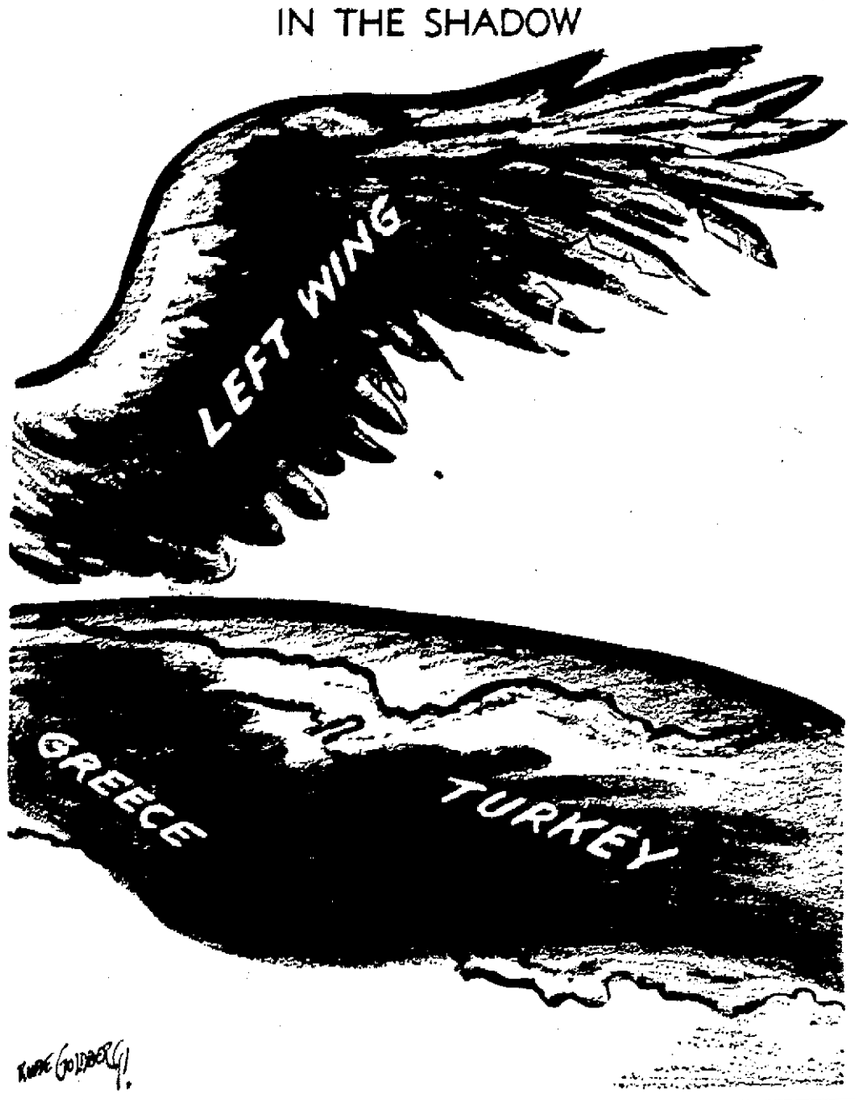
At this moment we seem to be following a dual policy. We are offering material and military force to hold Greece and Turkey as protections against the spread of Soviet power into the Mediterranean. And at the same time we are offering protests, advice and material aid throughout the Balkans, in Eastern Europe and in Asia. Can these two policies be reconciled? Apparently our government thinks they can.

If they are irreconcilable, we should frankly recognize that the peace of the world will depend on a balance of power between the United States and the U.S.S.R. We should recognize that within the Communist sphere the Soviet theory of democracy should prevail. Within ours, we would seek to promote our own.

But if we are to be concerned with freely chosen governments everywhere, we cannot act alone. The UN must be the active agent. And full collaboration must be established with all members, including the Soviets. All countries capable of giving aid should share the burdens.

Congress can hardly refuse the President's request for aid to Greece and Turkey. But it should demand that the wider implications of his policy be spelled out.

IN THE SHADOW



From News of Other Years

TEN YEARS AGO

It was Saturday, March 20, 1937.

Amelia Earhart's around the world plane skidded and crashed as she was attempting to take off from Honolulu Howland island on her world flight but she and her two men companions escaped injury.

Spring arrived at 7:45 p. m. so far as the calendar and almanac were concerned but forecasts indicated that more wintry weather was in store. Freakish weather necessitated the lighting of streetlights around 4 p. m. and the sky turned a deep copper color. A tornado dipped down and tore off the upper story of the Henry Streng farm residence near Marysville.

Miss Grace Busler and Edwin Brewer were married by Rev. Lawrence A. Wood, pastor of Trinity Baptist church, at the parsonage on South State street.

A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. A. Dale Orr of North State street and a daughter to Mr. and Mrs. John J. Damp of Tiffin. Mrs. Damp before her marriage was Miss Iona Richards of Marion.

Harry L. Harbin, 29, Marion amateur athlete, died at his home on Uncapher avenue, following an illness of a few hours.

TWENTY YEARS AGO

It was Sunday, March 20, 1927.

A special program was given in the new Sunday school building of the First Reformed church with Harold Klingel giving a talk on "What of the Future?"

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Mayer entertained a company of friends at their home seven miles south of Marion.

Mrs. G. E. Zimmer and Mrs. C. F. Forrey gave a birthday dinner at the home of Mrs. Zimmer on Woodrow avenue in honor of the sixty-fifth birthday anniversary to their mother, Mrs. H. A. Zuspan.

Annual memorial services for Buckeye Aerie, Fraternal Order of Eagles, were attended by more than 500. Members who had died during the preceding year were Robert Watters, David Washum, Charles Thomas, C. C. Miller, Hiram Schneemilch, S. L. Bond, M. J. Hagerty, John J. Rish, L. L. Jones, Dana Park, W. C. Stevenson, L. H. Albrecht, C. C. Linson, Elmer Patten, H. H. Powell and C. W. Keeler.

Henry Biggs, 85, Civil War veteran, died at his home in Richwood.

American Investment in Peace

By WALTER LIPPMANN

THE only certain prediction that can be made about the debate on the reparations is that winning the present argument will not solve the problem. No doubt we have substantially the better of the argument, in that an impartial tribunal would almost certainly hold that the Potsdam agreement superseded the Yalta agreement.

But if, as Secretary Marshall put it, "We will not follow (Soviet Foreign Minister) Molotov in a retreat from Potsdam to Yalta," we had better recognize as soon as we have won the debate, that nobody will follow us, including the Congress of the United States. We shall have to go forward from Potsdam.

The question is where and how, and if there is no quick and easy answer to this question, we can at least, I think, turn from an endless and sterile debate about the old texts to a fresh consideration of the elements of the problem.

"Reparations," is a word that has been used so much that it is easy to forget what it means. It means the act of mending and repairing damage. Now the damage caused by the war was, of course, colossal. There are 20 nations legally entitled to reparations. Their own official estimates of what they are morally entitled to claim from Germany would run well over 400 billion dollars.

Small Percentage

No one is even asking for any such sum. The global figure of 20 billions, mentioned at Yalta, was some 5 per cent of the estimated damage. The Soviet and Polish claim for half this amount would, if it were paid, be no more than 5 to 7 per cent of the material damage which Russia suffered.

This is the estimate in the admirable study just published by the National Planning Association, and written by David Ginsburg who was, until recently, a close adviser to Gen. Clay and Gen. Draper.

It is evident that only a small fraction of the war damage is going to be mended by the Germans. At the very least 95 per cent of the damage will have to be repaired by the Allies. The argument at Moscow is how much of the remaining 5 per cent the Germans can and should repair.

Here we come up on the fact that Germany is also a devastated country. The problem is how out of a badly damaged Germany some contribution is to be extracted to repair the damage which the Germans caused.

To make any contribution some of the damage to Germany will have to be repaired, and one of the irritating issues at Moscow is whether the United States will put money into Germany in order that Germany may be able to pay out money to the other Allies.

Seen this way, the problem is insoluble. But that is because the Allies are fixing their attention on the 5 per cent, which is technically reparations, instead of on the whole 100 per cent which will be needed to repair the damage of the war. On the 100 per cent, they could find it to the interest of each to work together.

Those Who Must Pay

If we look at the task of reconstruction as a whole, certain conclusions are, I think, inevitable. The first is that by far the greatest part of all the damage will have to be, can only be, repaired by the sweat of the people who suffered it. The victims of Germany will, on the most optimistic estimate, have to repair on the average 95% of the damage.

The second is that the remaining 5% will have to be repaired in part by Germany and in part by North America, principally the United States.

The Germans can perhaps be compelled to make their contribution out of forced savings, in other words by living at a low standard of life. We shall have to be induced to invest a considerable amount of our surplus capital in a project for the peace and reconstruction of Europe.

I think it is useful to put the issue in this bald and elemental form. The fact is that the reconstruction of Europe and therefore the establishment of peace cannot be accomplished without a large capital contribution by the United States. All the various proposals now being discussed rest on this premise, whether hidden or open.

The Soviet claim of reparations from Germany and Italy can only be satisfied if the United States underwrites it. But the same situation exists in a different form in regard to the other countries, whether Great Britain or Greece.

That the United States will have to make a large capital outlay for reconstruction and peace is no longer seriously in doubt. It is the thesis of the president's recent message. But the form and method of that investment are not yet clearly decided and they are all-important.

The best form and method would be not a series of doles but the offer to invest a large sum over a period of years in a comprehensive political settlement. By that I mean the treatment of Europe, not just Germany, as an economic unit.

Insurance Less Costly

If the Soviet government would agree to that, we could not only afford, but would in the end find it profitable, to allocate a large capital sum to the European economic union and to make a favorable loan to Russia in lieu of most of her reparations from Germany and of all her exactions from the countries of eastern Europe.

The cost of such an undertaking could not be greater on the most lavish calculation than the cost to us of waging war for two or three months. We could have waged war for years if we had had to. We could wage it now if we had to, and therefore there is no question but that we could afford such a policy.

The real issue for us is not whether we can afford to invest in reconstruction and peace.

The Once Over

By H. I. PHILLIPS

Letters for Special Delivery

DEAR President Truman:

I am all for doing what we can for a more orderly world. My heart goes out to the Greeks who are a great people in a tough spot. I appreciate the troubles of Turkey and other countries caught between the devil and the deep blue seltzers. And I know that the day of old fashioned isolationism is over. But isn't there a limit to how far Uncle Sam can go to put the globe in order, make everything explosion proof and rid the world of nervous troubles? I'm only asking.

* * *

What we need is a breathing spell between wars. Oh for the days when we could take our wars one at a time and when a peace could be arranged before the next started!

* * *

To get down to brass tacks, Harry, can the Mediterranean be saved by a committee, a good radio program and a few billion dollars? Is there an outside chance of keeping things honky-dory in Greece by more involved bookkeeping? Can we save Turkey from Russian designs by being a hail fellow well broke?

* * *

Of course I do not know much about international problems. I am just an American who is plenty worried, and the more I see Uncle Sam playing the joint role of a Global Mister Fixit, an international Fuller Brush Agent and a Lady Bountiful (operated entirely by push-buttons) the more worried I get. Already when I can't sleep I give up counting sheep. I just count war threats.

* * *

I know we got a duty to Europe, Asia, Africa, Australia and points north, south, east and west. I realize this is all one world but I don't see why it should also be one fight.

* * *

Have we got the kind of dough that saves every place Rand & McNally ever heard of? Would you be a good fellow and ease the strain on me by naming a couple of places somewhere which we do not intend to protect in the clinches at all times.

* * *

After all, are we a nation or an insurance company?

* * *

The American public may not be much excited now. Joe Q. Citizen may be saying "Oh, sure, let's come across for all them countries and show Joe Stalin where he gets off," but what I say, Harry, is wait until Joe Q. Citizen gets those tax bills with a special charge to him for upkeep in the Mediterranean. Just wait until his tax bears little charges for such items as "For doing right by the Suez Canal" and "For overhead expenses in connection with making Turkey happy." Wait until congress begins voting a Dardanelles tax. Oh, boy!

* * *

Well, like I say, I probably worry too much, so, wishing you the same, I will close now with my hair on end.

Yours truly,

ELMER

ALL SO SIMPLE

A Mrs. McCormick of Lockhaven, Pennsylvania, is the envy of all radio prize contest addicts. Two freight cars full of stuff, exclusive of an airplane, $1,000 in cash, a touring car, a deluxe trailer, a silver fox coat, free maid service for a year and the painting of her home inside and out gratis are hers in the biggest all-time radio prize. It was a March of Dimes feature. One night a week for six weeks a mystery voice spoke briefly. It was that of a well-known American woman. If you identified it and your phone rang, you won about $25,000 worth of stuff.

* * *

It turned out to be Clara Bow. The clue was in the weekly lines:

Two o'clock and all is well,
Who it is I cannot tell.

* * *

Everybody in our house was working on it without coming close. And how dumb Mrs. McCormick made us feel in explaining how she got it. Two o'clock naval time is Four Bells. Clara Bow married Rex Bell and has two kids. Four bells, get it? And in the "who it is" you have the "it" of the famous "It Girl."

If there is a strike in Wall Street will it be for the long pull or a quick turnover?

Our Boys

By TRUMAN TWILL

THE circulation manager, the business manager, the manager of all the managers, the editor and this correspondent feel wistful about a letter received recently from a paper boy's mother.

"I surely wish," she writes, "that sometime you'd print something for the customers on how they might give a little thought to their paper boy, instead of raising Cain because their paper isn't there just when they think it should be. What they don't know about this little paper boy is that he stops and opens a front door to throw the paper inside for a crippled woman, and stops on his collections to cheer up a shut-in. There is another lady who told me he had straightened out a blunder she had made about something that had happened at school. He comes home from school hungry as a little wolf, grabs a sandwich and out he goes, night after night, rain, sleet, hail or snow. I think people should be a little lenient with him. (Signed) A Paper Boy's Mother."

All newspapermen were paper boys once and still are, in a manner of speaking. They wish the public wouldn't forget so often that paper boys are just boys and that the miraculous thing about them is the way they turn out to be good boys if someone takes the trouble to understand them.

You might even say that newspapers have a mother-hen feeling about these boys, who sometimes forget a customer, miss the front porch, or get into complications with their collections. The same men who help to straighten things out once went through it themselves. And their mothers fed 'em, loved 'em and kept a stiff upper lip when they went up against Life, in the shape of a paper route.

Their mothers were patient when they were late for supper, when things went wrong and the money didn't come out even. And their mothers, and fathers, went to bat when the going was rough and someone had to get out there and deliver the papers. There isn't a paper boy's mother in this country who hasn't wished sometime that the customers would remember her boy is the finest kid on earth.

Newspapers feel the same way. Paper boys can be nerve-wracking rascals, but they're still the finest kids on earth, the flower of civilization, the hope of the world—and probably not half as good as our own mothers thought we were when we were paper boys, many years ago. The circulation manager, the business manager, the manager of all the managers, the editor and Truman Twill, former paper boys de luxe, thank a Paper Boy's Mother for saying what can't be said too often to suit us.

SAYS BUINESSMEN NOT FOES OF SCHOOLS

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., March 20 — Walton B. Bliss, executive secretary of the Ohio Education association, called today for a protest against what he termed "a disgraceful attempt to picture businessmen, big and little, as enemies of better education."

"The Ohio businessman, whether he happens to be the corner grocer or head of a large factory, has a vital interest in the future of Ohio's schools," Bliss said in a prepared statement.

"But the Ohio Chamber of Commerce and a number of trade associations are attempting to portray him before the legislature as a repulsive, tight-fisted creature who would prefer to see our schools go backward instead of forward.

"Businessmen are aware today that many of our schools are on the verge of collapse, that thousands of our children are denied proper educational opportunities, and it is a gross misrepresentation to contend that Ohio business regards good schools as 'needlessly extravagant,'" he stated.

Bliss urged businessmen to "repudiate the stand taken by the Ohio Chamber of Commerce against the Daniels-Cramer school bill," which proposes to increase state aid to schools from nearly $60,000,000 to about $85,000,000 a year.

RUBBER STRIKE TO AFFECT AUTO OUTPUT

By The Associated Press

AKRON, O., March 20 — The automobile industry would be affected immediately by a strike set for Sunday midnight against the nation's four largest rubber makers, informed sources in the rubber industry reported today.

Supplies of more than 200 vital rubber items in addition to tires would be cut off to the auto industry, an authority on the industry said. He listed the 200 parts as including gaskets, hose, spring snubbers, fan belts and motor vibration blocks.

"The automotive industry can have no inventory of these parts because we have been hard-pressed to keep enough in transit to allow the motor car manufacturers to remain in operation," the spokesman said.

He maintained that rumors of large inventories of tires could not be true partly because of government restrictions.

He said the "Big Four"—Goodrich, Firestone, Goodyear and U. S. Rubber—supplies 90 per cent of the original tires for America's motor cars and trucks.

Both the companies and the CIO-United Rubber Workers refused to budge from their positions in a dispute which threatens to send 110,000 rubber workers across the nation onto the picket line at midnight Sunday. Of this number, half will go on strike here.

RAIL EMBARGO SET

CLEVELAND, March 20 — A voluntary embargo on further freight shipments, short of carload lots, was in effect here today. Major railroads serving Cleveland put the action into force last night because terminals were glutted with freight due to the boxcar shortage.

Meeting of Pension Society Is Postponed

The weekly meeting of the Old Age Pension Society of Marion County scheduled for Friday afternoon in the Eagles' hall has been cancelled, it was announced today by Arthur Hershner, president. The hall is being used by the lodge in connection with the celebration of its 41st anniversary.

Rev. Joel Harmon was a speaker for the meeting held last Friday. He told his audience that God is eternal. He is able to supply our needs, he continued, cares for you and will have mercy on you. In times of death and deep sorrow man comes to his wits end; it takes God to fill the vacancy; He is able to solve all problems of life for time and eternity.

Devotional and patriotic exercises opened the meeting and the audience sang "America." Mrs. Lloyd Sharpe and William Porter reported on members who are ill. Music included instrumental selections by William Harrison and J. Augenstein sang "His Eye Is on the Sparrow." "Bringing in the Sheaves," by the choir was followed by the closing prayer by Rev. Harmon.

TAYLOR MAY RETURN TO NEW AIR FIRM

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, March 20—The man who founded Taylorcraft Aviation Corp. at Alliance, O., may help produce the light planes anew along with other former affiliates of the now defunct firm.

Possible rebirth of Taylorcraft was indicated yesterday after sale of the company's trade name, good will, jigs and dies was approved on a bid of $65,000.

Purchasers, calling themselves Taylorcraft aviation trustees, included C. G. Taylor, the liquidated concern's founder. He left the business some time before it went into bankruptcy court.

"A meeting will be called within 10 days at Alliance," said the trustees' attorneys shortly after the bid was approved, "to formulate plans for early production."

Elaborating, Canton attorney I. B. Hart gave these further details: (1) that the Taylorcraft name would be continued and probably used in incorporation; (2) that part of the building of the old plant at Alliance—now approved for purchase by Armour and Co. of Chicago—may be used for plane production.

Armour has announced plans to produce sandpaper there.

Taylor's decision to return to his former business followed a series of legal quarrels with the firm's last owners.

The enrollment at the end of February with the previous month's enrollment in brackets) included: Ohio, 139,881 (138,066). The Ohio enrollment at the end of February included 98,800 veterans in schools and 40,091 in job training.

40,347 Reinstate G.I. Insurance In 3 States

A total of 40,347 World War II veterans in Ohio, Michigan and Kentucky had applied for reinstatement of $302,502,500 of lapsed National Service Life Insurance policies as of March 10 in conjunction with the nationwide insurance information program which opened February 3, the VA reported today. Reinstatement applications and the amount of insurance involved included: Ohio, 21,253, $159,397,500. Veterans have until Aug. 1, 1947, to reinstate without physical examination if they certify that they are in as good health as they were at the time of lapse.

Dental Care Program For Vets Increases

The volume of applications from World War II veterans in Ohio-Michigan-Kentucky seeking dental care at government expense has increased sharply since inception of the "home-town" dental care program last fall.

During the summer months of 1946, VA received an average of 850 applications monthly for dental treatment in Ohio, 680 in Michigan and 80 in Kentucky. Following contracts negotiated in the fall between VA and the various state dental societies, providing for "home-town" dental care, applications recently have averaged 5,850 monthly in Ohio, 4,150 in Michigan and 1,680 in Kentucky.

VA officials said the applications have been processed as quickly as possible, and examinations have been authorized to determine if veterans have service-connected dental conditions which entitle them to treatment at government expense.

Veterans with service-connected dental conditions have a choice of approved private dentists when VA dental clinic service is not feasibly available. Majority of the authorized examinations and treatments have been made by the "home-town" dentists.

Dental conditions which are regarded as service-connected are those which are shown by examination to have developed during a veteran's period of service or within one year after discharge. In order to show that his dental disorder was incurred in service, or developed during the one-year presumptive period, a veteran should apply for examination and treatment as soon as possible after the condition is noted.

Veterans may make application for dental care at any VA office, presenting a discharge certificate which is other than dishonorable. After examination, made either by VA or participating private dentists, they will be notified as to the extent of actual treatment to be paid by the government and whether the work is to be performed by VA or by participating dentists.

G.I. Home Loans Nominal Despite Housing Demand

Despite current high costs of housing, veterans' loans for homes under the GI Bill have averaged only $5,615.

Recent statistics show that 385,155 ex-servicemen and women in the United States had borrowed nearly $3,200,000,000 to buy or build homes. VA guaranteed or insured less than half of this amount, or about $1,500,000,000.

Only 89 veterans, or slightly more than one-hundredth of one per cent of the home loan total, defaulted, causing VA to make good its guarantee totalling $145,363.

Questions and Answers

Q. Does VA have to approve my course of education under the GI Bill.

A. No. An eligible veteran may select his course and choose any state-approved educational institution in which he is able to enroll.

Q. I served four months in the Army during World War II, was honorably discharged last September and have been unable to find a job. Am I eligible for readjustment allowance and how do I go about getting it?

A. Application for readjustment allowance may be filed at a local office of the U. S. Employment Service or of the state employment agency. You must register as able to work and available for suitable work.

Q. Since leaving the service, I have negotiated a GI loan which matures in 25 years. Will I be permitted to pay it off before date of maturity?

A. You have the right to accelerate your payments or repay your loan in full at any time without premium or fee. Additional payments must be made in one installment or multiples of $100 each, whichever is most desirable.

Q. I am operating my own business but losing money at present. As an honorably discharged veteran of World War II, can I claim readjustment allowance?

A. If you served over 90 days, part of which was World War II service, you are eligible to apply for self-employment allowance and may file application at a local office of the U. S. Employment Service or your state unemployment agency.

Q. Will VA guarantee a loan made to me by my uncle, who is a non-supervised lender?

A. Yes, but loans made by non-supervised lenders require prior approval of VA. Your uncle should submit the proposal to the local VA regional office for approval.

NEW GAS LAW HELD DANGER TO STATES

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, March 20—Possibility that the federal power commission could sometimes impair states' rights under the natural gas act was expressed during a hearing here yesterday.

Assistant Attorney General Harry Fitzgerald of Ohio said that while the act gives the commission authority to regulate transportation and sale of gas in interstate commerce, companies buying outside their states but operating exclusively within them should be responsible only to state originated controls.

He spoke in opposing a commission order which held that the East Ohio Gas Company was subject to commission jurisdiction. Fitzgerald contended that the East Ohio Gas was subject only to control by the Ohio public utilities commission.

"The question," Fitzgerald said, "is how far the (federal power) commission can go in infringing on the rights of states to regulate utilities operating outside interstate commerce."

William B. Crockley and W. A. Dougherty, company counsel, said East Ohio had no property and no rates not controlled by the state. Crockley said there was no justification for federal regulation once fuel enters Ohio.

MOTHER AND DAUGHTER GET SUSPENDED TERMS

Appear on Charges of Contributing and Delinquency.

A mother and her 16-year-old daughter received suspended sentences today when they appeared in juvenile court for hearing, the mother on charges of contributing to the delinquency of her daughter and the daughter on charges of delinquency.

The mother was given a suspended sentence to the Marysville Reformatory for Women and the daughter a suspened sentence to the Girls Industrial School near Delaware. Juvenile Judge Oscar Gast suspended both sentences on condition that the mother provide a proper home environment for her daughter. The mother was released from Marion county jail today and the girl will be released from the Marion county detention home tomorrow, juvenile authorities said.

The two were taken into custody last Saturday with three men, two of whom were fined $10 and costs after they pleaded guilty in Municipal court to charges of intoxication. The mother also received a $10 fine on a charge of intoxication after she pleaded guilty. In a separate affidavit filed in juvenile court the mother was charged with keeping her daughter out all night in the company of the three men and permitting her to drink intoxicating liquor and become intoxicated.

TAFT BACKS PLEA FOR EXPORT CURB

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, March 20 — Senator Taft (R-Ohio), threw his weight behind President Truman's appeal for continued export controls today as the senate finance committee sought to determine likely American commitments to the proposed international trade organization.

Taft told a reporter he agrees with the Chief Executive that the government must keep a tight rein on goods shipped to foreign countries. Mr. Truman said that power is needed now more than ever since this country has "become a nation with world wide responsibilities."

"It seems to me that control over what can be shipped and where it can be sent will be particularly necessary if we are to step in to aid Greece and Turkey," Taft said.

But he cannot go along, the Ohio senator added, with the President's previous request—to continue wartime controls over many domestic commodities and services, through allocations and priorities. He mentioned sugar and rubber as exceptions, however.

"All these controls do in peacetime is to make a mess of things," Taft commented.

OHIO TO SELL SLOW LIQUORS AT BARGAIN

Gives Up Trying To Make Profit on Unpopular Brands.

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., March 20—Ohio gave up today trying to make nearly a half million dollars profit on 22 slow-moving lines of cordials and whisky—including the war-time experiment of potato whisky—and ordered 74,729 cases sold at cost plus gallonage tax.

State Liquor Director Stanley B. Cofall announced the sale, starting March 31, which will bring liquor store patrons savings of between 28 and 73 cents a bottle on the brands involved. The average saving on each of 961,752 bottles will be 49 cents.

The brand made with Potato alcohol, Cedar Brook, will be the largest single item in the sale, with 31,034 cases of fifths to be sold at $2.44 a bottle instead of $2.90 and 3,171 pints to go at $1.53 instead of $1.82. Liquor officials said the potato whisky "just never caught on."

11 CRILE HOSPITAL SUGGESTIONS MADE

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., March 20—A recommendation that Crile hospital in Cleveland limit admissions in neuropsychiatric service to those in need of immediate and urgent treatment was made today by a special veterans administration investigating committee.

The recommendation, one of 11 listed in a nine-page typewritten report, followed recent assertions by Dr. Alan B. Adam, acting chief of the hospital's neuropsychiatric service, that the hospital manager was guilty of maladministration.

The report contained a statement attributed to Dr. Adam in which he said it had become "more and more apparent" to him that his charges against the management of Crile hospital were excessive. He had been quoted as having made 17 separate charges.

The investigating committee upheld three charges, rejected 13 and declared that one was under circumstances beyond control. The assertions upheld by the board were:

That there had been a general breakdown of morale among members of the psychiatric staff at Crile.

That a request by Dr. Adam for more nurses and attendants Jan. 1, 1947 was "brushed off" by the hospital manager.

That the staff, instead of including five-fulltime specialists, had but one.

A cycle trip to Marysville was held recently to enable the boys to work for merit badges.

A first class badge was awarded to Clarence Allen, and he also received merit badges for woodwork, woodturning, carpentry and metal work. Other boys winning merit badges were Roger Bastian for woodwork, wookturning, carpentry and pioneering, and James Blankenship for home repair.

CONVICTED 3RD TIME OF KILLING LIMA MAN

By The Associated Press

GREENUP, Ky., March 20 — John D. Toncray, 61-year-old Tollsboro, Lewis county, merchant, stood convicted today for the third time of the slaying of patent medicine vendor John H. Dale seven years ago.

Circuit Judge J. R. Sowards directed a verdict of voluntary manslaughter, and the jury after deliberating an hour and a half fixed Toncray's penalty at five years in prison.

The merchant, who claimed self-defense in the shooting of the Lima man, posted $5,000 bond for an appeal.

Witnesses had told that Toncray and Dale exchanged words during Dale's medicine show — on the Tollsboro school ground in August, 1940—after which, Toncray testified, he returned to apologize.

An altercation followed and Dale was shot three times.

Twice convicted of murder at trials in 1940 and 1943, the storekeeper won appeals in each case, and won a change of venue transferring the case here from Vanceburg.

The little guy wouldn't know. But up pops Molotov, kicking off again. He says: "We want $10,000,000,000 in war damages from Germany."

And away off in Japan General MacArthur says "Hey, when are we going to sign a peace treaty with the Japanese so we can get out of here?"

This is all pretty big stuff. The little guy knows it. It's running away from him. And up in New York 80,000 Irishmen parade in a big wind in honor of St. Patrick who wasn't Irish but British.

Another Country Heard From

And while all this is going on, and while we're talking of arming the Greeks so they can fight their own Communists, up rises Senator Tydings, the Maryland Democrat, and he says:

"Hey, let's all disarm. Let's call the roll of all the nations and find out who wants to disarm."

So the little guy, running over all these things in his head, says he thinks the pieces don't fit, but he wouldn't know, being only a little guy.

But he's an optimistic little guy. He thinks if maybe he lives long enough all these things will fit tozether and come out right. Live how long?

Oh, he didn't know. Not one lifetime, surely. Maybe two. Maybe a hundred years, a thousand, a million? He couldn't even guess.

Then he grew sad. He thought: "Maybe if I lived one million years all these things would be straightened out but — then there'd be more things coming up. Bound to be."

Tired Kidneys Often Bring Sleepless Nights

Doctors say your kidneys contain 15 miles of tiny tubes or filters which help to purify the blood and keep you healthy. When they get tired and don't work right in the daytime, many people have to get up nights. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder. Don't neglect this condition and lose valuable, restful sleep.

When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may also cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, a stimulant diuretic, used successfully by millions for over 50 years. Doan's give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

BLOND WEEPS AT INQUEST. A tear falls off the nose of Ruth Helen McKenzie (above), 29-year-old bookkeeper, as a coroner's jury returns a verdict of homicide (March 18) in the death of her fiance, Jack C. Lloyd at Los Angeles, Calif. The jury recommended she be held to answer. Lloyd died of stab wounds inflicted in Miss McKenzie's apartment.

OHIO ENGINEERS TO MEET IN COLUMBUS

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., March 20 — Postwar highways, shale oil and jet propulsion headed the list of subjects to be discussed today when the 68th annual convention of the Ohio Society of Professional Engineers convened here for a two-day session.

The value of express highways, their design, construction, maintenance and operation, were the topics of State Highway Director Murray D. Shaffer; Joseph Barnett, federal public road administration officials, E. R. Needles, New York City consulting engineer, and E. R. Golbert, safety engineer for the Pennsylvania turnpike commission.

L. C. Karrick, Nelsonville, O., research engineer, was scheduled to lead a discussion of Ohio's shale oil projects, and R. E. Small of the General Electric Company to talk on the new jet propulsion experiments being attempted.

Approximately 800 engineers from throughout Ohio were expected to arrive in time for tonight's banquet when Maj. Gen. Robert S. Beightler, who commanded Ohio's 37th division during the war and now heads the Fifth Service Command, will make the principal address.

Marion Sailor Meets President Aboard Ship

One Marion sailor, Jack Berringer, seaman 2/c, U. S Navy, believes he can now answer the $64 question without getting very excited, after being put through his verbal paces by the President of the United States recently, when the latter visited the USS Gilmore, a submarine tender, based at Key West, during his vacation in the south.

Seaman Berringer, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs H. H. Berringer of 467 South Prospect street, is a welder aboard the Gilmore, which made an enviable record in the South Pacific during World War II, and it was this ship the President chose to visit while on vacation.

The visit was anticipated, the Marion seaman wrote his family, and he was on honor guard. Alone in the shop, the President, after inspecting the place in which he seemed quite interested, began asking questions. After asking his name, where he was from and making some inquiry about the work, put the question "how the sailor liked the Navy."

That was a hurdle that was hard to meet. However, remembering that only the truth pays, he replied that in his opinion "it is alright if one didn't have anything else to do"

Seaman Berringer, who has been in service a year, left his high school studies to enter service and his plans definitely did not include a sea-faring career. However, he is making the best of it and doing a good job as a crewman on the Gilmore.

Pleasant School Class Makes Tour of Capital

The Democracy class of Pleasant Township High school visited Columbus Tuesday where they attended the day's session of the 97th general assembly and later in the afternoon had an audience with Governor Herbert. Host for the occasion was Kenneth Robinson, county representative and the the group also met State Senator David A. Liggitt. The group of 16 pupils was accompanied by Supt. E E. Banning and Robert Thomas, instructor of social studies at the school.

News of Our Boys

Robert L. Crist, seaman, frist class, son of Walter Crist of Route 1, Delaware, is serving aboard the seaplane tender U.S.S. Timbalier. Crist entered the Naval service Oct 1, 1945, and received his recruit training at the Naval Training Center, Camp Peary, Va.

Pneumonia

TREATMENT of more than 1,000 cases of pneumonia without a single fatality at U. S. Naval Hospital, Great Lakes, Illinois, during the war, points the way to a life-saving routine of handling those sick of this serious ailment.

Dr. Gordon J. Kaske of the U. S. Navy Medical Corps in reporting on these cases, contrasts the results obtained when patients were treated with suladiazine alone and when the sulfonamide drug was used in connection with penicillin. When the two drugs were used together, the patient's recovery was much more rapid than when either was used alone

After this fact was established, the following treatment was given: Penicillin was given by injection into the muscle as soon as a diagnosis of pneumonia was made and then continued every three hours until recovery took place Meanwhile sulfadiazine was also given at four-hour intervals.

If the white blood cell count fell too low, sulfadiazine was discontinued If the patient had a high temperature or signs of lack of water in the body, a solution of salt and sugar was given into a vein.

In those cases in which there were cyanosis, shortness of breath and rapid pulse, oxygen treatment was carried out. The proper drug was employed for relieving severe pain, restlessness or severe cough The pneumonia started in all cases with such symptoms as fever, chills, cough, pains in the chest and frequently the coughing up of blood The face was flushed, there were fever blisters about the lips and the breathing was rapid. There was a great deal of sweating and often cyanosis or a bluish coloring to the skin.

Dr. Kaske points out that in the treatment of pneumonia, good nursing care is an item of major importance. During the period of recovery all of the pneumonia patients were allowed some manner of activity. The use of penicillin was continued until the patient's temperature remained normal for a period of about three to five days If, after this time, he continued to be free of fever, he was allowed out of bed.

The patients were not allowed to return to their usual activities until they had regained their normal weight and no abnormal conditions were found in the chest on physical and X-ray examinations. Not one of the patients treated in this manner succumbed to the pneumonia, and this fact should point the way toward the saving of many civilian lives this year.

DAILY LENTEN MEDITATIONS

IN THE CHRIST OF THE CROSS WE GLORY

Today's Text "God forbid that I should glory, save in the Cross of our Lord Jesus Christ." Galatians 6 14.

* * *

"LONDON IN WARTIME" is the title of an arresting picture released by an international news service. There is destruction in that picture. Bombs raining down out of the heavens have leveled rows of houses and shops, many of them centuries old. There is fire in that picture Huge billowing clouds of smoke rising from the scene of a recent "hit." There is death in that picture. On the debris-strewn street there are corpses, of men and women and children whose lives were snuffed out in a twinkling by the terror from the skies.

Thank God, there is also life and hope in that picture Towering over the surrounding scene of desolation and destruction, the huge dome of St. Paul's Cathedral majestically points to heaven, and, surmounting all, the great, gilded cross, unshaken, stands as a symbol of hope and peace. What child of God can behold such a scene without thinking of John Bowring's immortal hymn.

"In the Cross of Christ I glory
Tow'ring o'er the wrecks of time"

REV EMIL C. KLUTEY,
Pastor of Salem Evangelical and Reformed Church.

Newspaper Publishers Hit Postal Rate Hike

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, March 20 — Representatives of the American Newspaper Publishers association and other press groups yesterday opposed any increase in second class mail rates, covering newspapers and periodicals, on the ground it would be false economy.

Josh L Horne, publisher of the Rocky Mount, N C, Telegram and chairman of the ANPA postal committee, told the house postal committee that the proposed increases, ranging in some cases four times higher than present rates, would be impractical because they would cut volume

He told the committee that newspapers are "more than paying their way, they are helping to pay for services set up by the congress which were never intended to pay their way"

Rep Murry (R-Wis) observed that country newspapers are semi-public institutions" and "If they had been paid for all the material they published for the government free during the war, they would have enough money to keep them running for some time to come."

Guest Party Held By Prospect Arts Club

The Cincinnati policemen said he talked with Gov. Frank J. Lausche the following May about the job.

"I told him (the governor) I would take the job if it was understood I could operate without anyone telling me who to arrest and who not to," Jones asserted.

All Right with Lausche

"The governor told me that's the kind of men I want."

Jones said he didn't see Kleinfelder again until July, 1946, during a liquor board hearing in Columbus.

During the ensuing conversation, Kleinfelder was quoted as saying:

"You can't blame me for everything that has happened here."

Jones said the conversation took place about two days before Kleinfelder resigned.

Testifying earlier about Cincinnati police relations with the liquor department, Jones said that of 27 violations reported to the board, only 12 were called for hearing in 1943.

Woman Paints Keen Picture With a .22

MRS. MARGARET GILL

By The Associated Press

PHILADELPHIA, Pa. — Portrait Painter Mrs. Margaret Gill, a modern Annie Oakley, thinks women are overlooking a chance for glory in pistol shooting.

"Women are extremely good at the sport, but there are not enough of them in it," she says. I feel certain if more women would try, plenty of good pistol shots would develop. Our sex does not waver at the firing line as do the men."

The blue-eyed sharpshooter came up with this conclusion after capturing the police and service women's event of the International Police Pistol tournament at Teaneck, N. J. Her score: 296 out of a possible 300.

Back in her portrait-hung marble-floored studio, Mrs. Gill credited success to coaches Jim Wiley and Frank Flynn.

"I am proud of this target," Mrs. Gill said as she stretched it across the top of a card table. "A few weeks ago I fired a perfect score of 300 with a .22 pistol.

"I'm also proud of this bronze plaque won at Teaneck. I think I shall place it over the doorway to forewarn intruders that I can shoot as well in the house as on the range."

REPORT ON HEALTH PROGRAM PRESENTED

C. of C. Committee Continues Study of Project.

A meeting of the civic affairs committee of the Marion Chamber of Commerce was held Wednesday noon in the Y.M.C.A. Henry Krigbaum, chairman of the committee, heard reports from various sub-committees.

Principal report was given by W. H. Goodwin, chairman of the sub-committee on health. Mr. Goodwin reported his committee was continuing its study of Marion's public health situation, and said that since the general meeting Feb. 24, when 23 representatives of 19 organizations approved greater health service for the Marion area, his committee has been directing its efforts toward means of financing a broader health program.

The sub-committee's study concerns the establishment of a single general health district for the Marion area replacing the present city and county health districts.

Chairman Krigbaum appointed Charles Buente as chairman of a special committee to assist other civic groups in greater park development. Serving with Mr. Buente on the committee will be Kenneth Roberts, Harold Nussbaum, John Lacey and J. W. Rutherford.

GREEK

Greece be lost or compromised the effect upon Turkey is inevitable."

Then he added:

"But the effect is even wider. Consider for a moment the situation of the countries to the east and south of Turkey. All of them are confronted with the accumulated problems of the past and of the war. These nations wish and should be able to develop and maintain free institutions and individual liberties, but untoward circumstances may force them in other directions.

Vital to Own Interests

"It is vital to our own interest to do all in our power to help them solve their economic difficulties in such a way that their choice will be in favor of freedom."

Acheson said that a collapse in Greece and Turkey, and the installation of totalitarian regimes would produce "enormous" effects upon the countries to the west—especially if it should result from "the failure of this great democracy to come to their aid."

"On the other hand," he continued, "I ask you to consider the effects on their morale and their Greece and Turkey receive a helping hand from the United States, the country with which they closely associate the principle of freedom.

"It is not too much to say that the outcome in Greece and Turkey will be watched with deep concern throughout the vast area from the Dardanelles to the China sea."

HITCHHIKING BOYS HELD

Two runaway 15-year-old Detroit boys were apprehended by police when observed hitchhiking on South Main street Wednesday morning. Their parents, notified by Marion police, called for them last night.

Seminoles Decide White Man Here To Stay

By HAL BOYLE
Associated Press Writer

PORT MYERS, Fla., March 20 —Ten years ago a smuggled ad Florida public officials and civic leaders, consternation stricken at the poverty of the Seminole Indians a century after the ending of armed conflict between the races, and [illegible] settlers based on the tribal chieftains.

"What can we do to help your distressed people?" they asked.

An interpreter translated the proud and bitter answer of an elderly chief:

"Let us alone."

Hal Boyle

Those three words symbolized for a hundred years the Seminole desire to be free of any contact with the white invaders who forcibly carried off to Oklahoma all members of the tribe except those who hid out in the Everglades.

There are signs, however, in the last decade that the Seminoles are gradually exchanging their old culture of the forest drum for the [illegible] of the radio and juke box.

3 Factors Bring Change

Three factors are influencing the Seminoles to change the ancient pattern of their ways:

1. The old orthodox chieftains who hates white men worse than a Georgia Confederate war veteran hates General Sherman, are dying out.

2. A conviction is spreading among the young braves that the palefaces are probably here to stay—all except those accidentally drowned while staking out homebuilding lots bought during the Florida land boom.

3. The tribe has grown to 740 members and no longer can hill enough wild game to subsist. It's more profitable to serve as guides for white hunters in quest of the vanishing deer and turkey.

On Par with Alligators

Only one-third of the Seminoles live on the 175,000 acres set aside for their use on one state and three federal reservations because the land can't support them all. Needless to say, none of the acreage is on Miami Beach or Palm Beach. Some of the Seminoles exported to Oklahoma got rich on oil, but the boys who stayed here are fought for their little thatched huts in the Everglades don't have much more money than the alligators.

"I know of no Indian in Florida worth as much as $10,000," said K. A. Marmon, superintendent of the Seminole agency.

Marmon believes that the tribe is reaching a turning point in its history that the Indians will gradually abandon their old life and become craftsmen handing trades workers farmers and ranchers.

"All they need is a chance," he said. "They are getting interested in progress as the influence of the old tribal connections dies out and the old chiefs lose their significance.

"We have two schools on the reservations and the older Indians now want the younger ones at least to learn how to read and write.

Like White Man's Games

"Their children are quite intelligent. They like to play the white man's games—softball, baseball, and volleyball. Some families own motor cars."

Significant of the new attitude is the conversion of 62-year-old Jesse Billie, an interpreter at the conference 10 years ago when Indian leaders rejected proferred aid from the white leaders.

"I want to go to school so I can learn to help my people," said Billie recently, as he enrolled in one of the reservation schools.

"We got to change. We got to forget about old things."

Many who know the Indians well, however, are dubious of any swift absorption of them. Their tribal government is breaking down, but the Seminoles still smoke a slow peace pipe.

"They will keep their pure blood stream for many years," acknowledged Marmon, who said he knew of no case of a Seminole marrying a white person. Indian and Negro intermarriage is also rare.

Conservative Seminoles just don't like mixing the mouvelles names foreigners into their proud old Everglades families.

AAA Deadline Near

KENTON—April 1 has been set as the deadline date for Hardin county farmers to file their 1947 agricultural plan with the AAA, according to Harley Shuck, county chairman. Where changes in acreage have been made, operators may file within 30 days after such changes, Mr. Shuck said.

Farmers Told To Brace For Lower Prices by End of Year

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., March 20—Ohio farmers were told today to look for lower prices for their crops by the end of 1947 but not to worry yet about the bottom dropping out as after the First World War.

J. I. Falconer, chairman of the department of rural economics at Ohio State university, in a talk prepared for the 35th annual Farm and Home week sessions at the university forecast that heavier eating by the public, population increases, plus exports for war relief would prevent a major deflation of farm prices.

Falconer, one of Ohio's leading rural sociologists, found general farm prospects good but added.

"Whether our production volume becomes great enough to depress prices depends a great deal on whether we can maintain our present per capita consumption, which increased 15 per cent during the war

Full Employment Necessary

"We must have full employment and good wages to keep that increase. The chances for this are good if there is peace and harmony between labor and management, since there is still a shortage of manufactured goods."

Tracing the present peak price of $3 a bushel for wheat to government purchases for famine relief, Dr. Falconer said national policy would govern the export outlook.

"My guess is," he said, "that the government will continue through 1948 with relief shipments."

Another factor will be the crops themselves, he said, with a short crop bringing higher prices and a bumper crop lower prices.

No Big Drop Immediately

"Farm prices probably will drop some by the end of the year," he forecast, "but they won't seem anything like the low prices after the first war within the next two or three years."

Dr. Falconer predicted that if the surpluses appeared again—ton many hogs or too much milk for the market—attempts would be made immediately to expand consumption further.

"It will be the opposite of what happened in 1933," he said, "when we killed pigs and plowed under corn. School lunch programs probably will be expanded to use much of the food. Also, some plan to supplement the food budgets of low-income city persons may be worked out."

He recalled the food-stamp used during the depression and cited the Aiken bill now pending in congress to work out a subsidy formula.

"We don't know just what form it will take in the end," he said, "but the thought is to make sure that everybody gets plenty to eat."

More Than 4,500 Attend

More than 4,500 farmers and their wives had registered for the four-day meeting, which closes tomorrow. All faculty members of the college of agriculture participated in discussion groups and demonstrations.

Yesterday, Gov. Thomas J. Herbert and State Agriculture Director Frank N. Farnsworth topped a comprehensive speaking program.

The Ohio Shropshire Breeders' association in annual meeting elected Oscar G. Clogg of Strongsville, president; Carlton Diefenthal of Curtice, vice president, and L. K. Bear of Columbus, secretary-treasurer.

New association directors are F. M. North of Greenville; F. M. Schultz of De Graff; Howard Banbury of Danville, E. A. Holycross of Marysville; Frank Garmon of Kenton, and Chester Janes of Washington C. H.

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

Do Men Like Women?

Marbe you read that recent article in a national magazine, claiming that American men don't really like the company of women. They just put them up on a pedestal and leave them there.

But I wouldn't say that that was so in our town. Look at any married couple—like the Cuppers. Jane wouldn't nag if Dee spent his evenings "with the boys"—but actually Dee likes nothing better than to stay home by the fire, having a glass of beer with Jane, playing cribbage, or just talking.

And when he does go out, for an afternoon of fishing down at Seward's Creek, or for an evening glass of beer at Andy Botkin's Garden Tavern, Jane is almost always with him (except when she's got a spot of baking in the oven).

From where I sit, respect doesn't rule out everyday companionship . . . and never should. They go together—essential parts of a successful marriage.

CHOCOLATE BAVARIAN REFRIGERATOR CAKE

By CHARLOTTE ADAMS
Associated Press Food Editor

March is certainly the dreariest time of year Waiting for real spring to come is often a dreary business We get bored with our winter clothes, with the weather, and very likely with our food Fixing new and interesting desserts helps a lot to keep menus lively Here are a few suggestions to help you do that

Chocolate Bavarian Refrigerator Cake

One envelope plain unflavored gelatine ¼ cup cold water, 2 eggs, separated 2 squares bitter chocolate melted or 6 tablespoons cocoa, ½ cup milk, scalded, ½ cup sugar, ¼ teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon vanilla, 1 cup thin cream 1-3 cup chopped nuts, ¾ cup dates, strips sponge cake

Soften gelatine in cold water Beat egg yolks slightly Blend chocolate or cocoa (for cocoa—make a paste with a small amount of water) into scalded milk Slowly add scalded milk to egg yolks stirring until smooth Add sugar and salt Cook over hot water until mixture coats the spoon, stirring constantly Remove from heat and add gelatine, stirring until dissolved. Add vanilla and cream Chill and when mixture begins to stiffen, fold in stiffly beaten egg whites Rinse a 5x10 inch loaf pan in cold water Decorate bottom with chopped nuts and dates Cover with 1-3 of Chocolate Bavarian Add a layer of sponge cake cut in long, wide strips a half inch thick Alternate another layer of a third of the Chocolate Bavarian mixture and strips of sponge cake End with strips of sponge cake Chill in refrig... about two hours or until set Gov... serve, invert, turn out on platter and slice.

Calavo Marmalade Mousse

One cup calavo pulp, 4 tablespoons lemon juice, 1 cup orange marmalade, 1 cup whipping cream

To prepare pulp, cut calavo into halves lengthwise and remove seed and skin Force fruit through a sieve Blend lemon juice, marmalade and calavo pulp Pour into refrigerator tray, place in freezing compartment and freeze without stirring

Quick Prune Cake

One cup cooked pitted prunes ¾ cup brown sugar (packed), ½ cup shortening, 1 egg, ¼ cup milk, ½ teaspoon grated orange rind 2 cups sifted flour, ½ teaspoon salt, ½ teaspoon soda, 1 teaspoon baking powder, 1½ teaspoons cinnamon

Cut prunes into small pieces and press through sieve Cream sugar with shortening and unbeaten egg and beat thoroughly Add prunes, milk and orange rind and blend Sift the remaining ingredients together and mix in lightly Pour into a greased baking dish about 8x8x2 inches) Bake about 35 minutes in 350 degree oven

George Sisler's Son Says He'll Win Spot With Card Regulars

By The Associated Press

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March 20—Dick Sisler, who came into baseball under the burden of one of the heaviest handicaps any player ever had to carry, served a to-whom-it-may-concern notice today that he intends to be a regular this season with the world champion St. Louis Cardinals.

The offspring of the immortal George Sisler, who had two strikes on him at the start because of the inevitable comparison to his illustrious father, found the task of holding down the regular first base position too difficult last year, his first in the big leagues.

Not that Dick was a total flop. Far from it. He showed plenty of ability and at times gave indications that he might develop into a star with more experience. The fans, however, expected too much of a son of Sisler.

After yielding the first base job to Stan Musial in June, 26-year-old Dick found himself relegated to pinch hit roles and occasional flings in left field for the balance of the season. He wound up with a batting average of .260, playing in only 83 games.

"I'm not scared and nervous anymore," Sisler said. "With my freshmen year out of the way, I believe I believe I am over the hump I think the fans have come to realize that I am just another ball player. I am happy playing the outfield. That is my natural position."

Plans for the series of social and ritualistic events were made at regular meeting Wednesday night.

Mr. Abel, who left Marion when appointed to his present national post in the order a few years ago has maintained his membership in the local aerie, which he joined in 1907.

About 150 members attended Wednesday night's meeting, at which 12 applications for initiation with the Memorial Foundation class Sunday were read. Plans were made to bring a degree team from Lorain to confer the ritualistic work. The ceremony will start at 2 p. m.

Music at the social meeting following the initiation will be furnished by the Eagles band and quartet. The latter is composed of J. P. McAndrews, Warren Augenstein, Robert Heimlich and C. C. Ward.

A family party was planned for tonight at Eagles hall. Mrs. Goldie Swope is in charge of entertainment.

W.C.T.U. DISCUSSION ON LIQUOR TRAFFIC

Speakers Present Topic at Union Meeting.

"Liquor Traffic in Our Community" was the topic presented by three honorary members of the Mary Harris Armor Union of the W.C.T.U. when Mr. and Mrs. C. Z. Zachman entertained members and their husbands Tuesday evening at their home on South Prospect street.

Cutler McGrew discussed the economic phase of "Liquor Sales as They Affect the Community." Mr. Zachman discussed the "Christian Citizen's Attitude Toward Liquor Sales," and John H. Clark pointed out social evils of the liquor sales and the legislation that is now pending in the state legislature. He explained the various bills which have recently been introduced in the house which deal with prohibiting the buying or furnishing of liquor to minors by parents or guardians, prohibiting sale of liquor within one city block of schools and churches in a municipality or within 500 yards outside a municipality, prohibiting sale of liquor in public eating places, and granting town councils the right to set the closing hour of liquor sales and prohibiting the sale of beer on Sunday.

A petition for the Capper bill prohibiting liquor advertising in magazines, newspapers and over the radio was circulated among the members by the president of the union. Mrs. John H. Clark. Rev. R. W. Faulkner conducted devotions on the subject, "Put on the Whole Armor of God."

Guests were Mr. and Mrs. Cutler McGrew, Rev. Faulkner, J. W. Baker, Frank Douce, Charles Feaver, H. E. Epley, Lewis Ruhlman, Irwin Jobe, J. J. Stafford, Guy Coleman, A. L. Wood and Mr. Clark. Eight guests became honorary members.

PORTAL REVIEW BY HIGH COURT ASKED

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, March 20—Attorney General Tom C. Clark today asked the supreme court for an immediate review of the decision by U. S. District Court Judge Frank A. Picard which denied employes of the Mt. Clemens Pottery Company portal to portal pay.

In a petition filed with the high tribunal, Clark said the public interest will be "promoted" by prompt settlement of the questions involved in the historic case.

Suits approximating $6,000,000,000 on portal pay claims have been filed against companies in numerous states.

Clark's petition said:

"The public interest in the prompt settlement of the scope of the de minimis doctrine (the doctrine that courts will not deal with trivial matters), as applied to walking time and preliminary activities under the fair labor standards act is apparent."

"ONE-MAN RULE" IN OHIO CO-OPS SCORED

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., March 20—The newly appointed assistant to the state director of agriculture today attacked what he said was one-man control of Ohio farm cooperatives by Murray D. Lincoln, president of the Ohio Farm Bureau.

In testimony before the senate agricultural committee, Edwin J. Bath likewise fired at Lincoln's purported close alignment with CIO interests.

"Organically and fundamentally," Bath declared, "there is nothing wrong with farm cooperatives. One-man leadership and one-man control is what I object to.

"That prevails in the organization that I have served so long. If it doesn't prevail, the tendency is there."

Bath, lobbyist for the farm bureau for 18 years, appeared before the committee in defense of his appointment at an $8,000 assistant to State Agriculture Director Frank N. Farnsworth.

Turning to the alignment of cooperatives with labor, Bath asserted: "I object to the tie-up with labor which is responsible for the whole economic life which we have today; a situation where we see them going down the street arm-in-arm and saying 'we will decide the matter at the ballot box.'"

Bath, in referring to an assertion he subscribed to the philosophy of Lincoln, said:

"I am not doing to pass judgment on Murray D. Lincoln or whether there is any Communism within the farm bureau, or that Lincoln is connected with Communism. I do not only not bring that philosophy to the department, but I am opposed to it."

Of this resignation from the farm bureau, the assistant director declared it was a "question of continuing to the last out or to rebel."

LOVE'S PERILOUS PATH

By ADELE GARRISON

I DID not hurry as I went into the sitting room, for I did not wish to give Mary any idea that there was anything urgent in my wish to speak to Dicky. Rest and quiet nerves were what she needed most. I must do nothing to startle her, nor permit anyone else to do so.

Dick sprang up the instant I came through the door, closing it behind me.

"Now is she?" he asked tensely. "Do you think it wise to leave her alone?"

Tense Nerves

My tense nerves urged me to tell him tartly that I would not have left Mary if I had thought it unwise, but commonsense reined the answer back, and I substituted an innocuous one.

"She's perfectly all right. I've provided night things for her and she's undressing and getting into the bed I just made up for her. She appears very calm, quite her usual self. Here are the checks for her bags. She left them at the airport in her hurry to get here. You'll have to send a boy for them later."

"Poor kid!" he said. "She must be ready to go over the ragged edge."

"She may be," I told him, "but leaving her bags at the airport is no indication of it. How many times have you known Mary to do things like that?"

He grinned in patent relief at the reminder.

"I couldn't count 'em!" he said. "But you didn't come in here to discuss Mary's traveling idiosyncrasies. Sorry I switched your train of thought. Spoon whatever lentils are in the tureen."

Took a Chair

"Sit down," I said, and took a chair myself. "This will take a little telling."

When we were seated, I began the story which Olina had brought me, of Philip's checking on the airplane's arrival and getting in touch with Noel.

"By this time, according to Olina," I finished, "Noel will be on his way to the Lansfield and will know that Mary is with us."

My husband sprang to his feet, thrust his arms high above his head and shook his clenched fists apparently at the ceiling.

"The old turkey-buzzard!" he exclaimed. "Getting Noel all steamed up like this! Will you excuse me while I take time out to cuss?"

Haven't Time

"We haven't time," I told him. "I want you to be ready to deal with Noel when he gets here. I don't want to see him unless I have to. Of course, he'll have to see Mary when Dr. Twitchell says he may, but I want you to have him properly subdued by that time."

"Leave him to me," Dicky said confidently. "To my certain knowledge, Mary has measles, mumps, scarlet fever, diphtheria, pernicious anemia and distinct symptoms of smallpox. Good Lord above us! There's the knocker now! Do you suppose it's Noel?"

"If it is, I'm not to be seen, or Mary either, until after Dr. Twitchell finds out what's wrong with her," I said, with hand on the door to the room where I had left my husband's lovable but tempestuous niece.

"It's probably Dr. Twitchell," Dicky said, with his hand raised to open the hall door.

"Then bring him right into the bedroom," I directed, going through the door and finding Mary in bed as I had directed, looking ethereally lovely in the filmy, lace-trimmed nightgown I had given her, my choicest, a cherished gift which I rarely use.

A "Ducky" Gown

"This is the duckiest gown," she said smiling up at me, and I wondered hopefully if her fever had subsided, and if Dr. Twitchell's verdict would be a favorable one.

Then I remembered that I must not let the physician pronounce her well as long as Philip Veritzen was on the warpath, and my brows contracted in a way Mary knows well.

"What's eating my sweetie pie of an auntie?" she asked, in the wheedling tone which she knows always excites my somewhat exasperated mirth, and then Dicky's knock sounded on the door.

As I opened it, he spoke as if he were a uniformed attendant.

"Dr. Twitchell calling," he said.

To Each Its Turn

Skyways are gradually becoming as well planned as highways. Case in point: Extra width of pavement at end of each taxiway, making a "hard-stand" or parking place for three planes waiting for their turns on the runway, is reported as having greatly speeded up traffic at a busy airport.—O. S. U. Science and Appliance.

And Nothing Can Be Done About It By H. T. Webster

THAT REMINDS ME OF THE DAY WHEN ANYBODY IN THE PUBLIC EYE COULD GET HEADLINE BILLING IN ONE OF THE LEADING VAUDEVILLE THEATERS.
THE MANAGER OF THIS THEATER FAVORED PRETTY GIRLS WHO HAD BEATEN A MURDER RAP. ONE SUCH GIRL SHOT A MAN ON FRIDAY AND OPENED AT THE THEATER THE FOLLOWING MONDAY AT $1000 FOR THE WEEK
SHE TRIED TO GET A SECOND WEEK AT THE SAME SALARY, BUT THE MANAGER SAID: "NOT UNTIL YOU GO OUT AND SHOOT SOMEBODY ELSE."
DID SHE SHOOT SOMEBODY ELSE? WASN'T THERE A LAW IN THOSE DAYS AGAINST KILLING PEOPLE?
